

4th Annual Bullying Prevention Symposium

Building a Culture of Respect to Prevent Bullying Behaviors

October 13 8:30 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Registration 8–8:30 a.m.

Join us as we learn how schools can scaffold bullying prevention onto a larger, more comprehensive framework for prevention and positive youth development. By strengthening these prevention efforts we also address underlying contributing social, emotional, and environmental factors that can lead to bullying behaviors.

Keynote: Building a Culture of Respect

Learn the difference between self-esteem and self-respect and hear about the latest research regarding self-respect as a key asset to improved social-emotional and academic outcomes for youth. Learn how to foster self- and mutual-respect and practice respect-building techniques to increase a youth's resiliency, communication skills, and bullying prevention and boundary-setting skills.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER Courtney Macavinta is Co-Founder and CEO of The Respect Institute, whose mission is to give youth and their influencers tools to build self-respect so they can end cycles of disrespect and thrive. A nationally recognized youth development expert, Courtney is co-author of the best-selling book "RESPECT," which led to the creation of self-respect building tools used by more than 50,000 youth.
